Regional Expert for Bosnia and Herzegovina for preparation of the study on competency frameworks in the Western Balkans

Background

The Regional School of Public Administration (ReSPA) is the inter-governmental organization for enhancing regional cooperation, promoting shared learning and supporting the development of public administration in the Western Balkans. ReSPA Members are Albania, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Montenegro, North Macedonia and Serbia, while Kosovo^{*2} is a beneficiary. ReSPA's purpose is to help governments in the region develop better public administration, public services and overall governance systems for their citizens and businesses and prepare for the membership of the European Union.

ReSPA establishes close co-operation with Ministers, senior public servants and heads of units in Member countries. ReSPA also works in partnership with the European Union, specifically Directorate General for Neighbourhood and Enlargement Negotiations (DG NEAR), other regional actors such as OECD/SIGMA and Regional Cooperation Council (RCC), as well as agencies and civil society organizations. Since its inception, ReSPA, as an international organization and a key regional endeavour in Public Administration Reform, has contributed to capacity-building and networking activities through in-country support mechanisms, peering and the production of regional research materials.

The European Commission (EC) provides directly managed funds for the support of the ReSPA activities (research, training and networking programmes) in line with the EU accession process. So far, three EC Grant Contracts have been implemented by ReSPA during the period 2010-2018. The current EC grant supports the implementation of the activities required for contribution to the achievement of the three strategic objectives during the period 2019-2022.

ReSPA works primarily through regional networks which operate at three levels: Ministerial, Senior Officials, and networks/working groups of experts and senior practitioners. There is one network – Programme Committee composed of the representatives of institutions in charge of PAR, Public Financial Management (PFM) and government policy planning and the European Integration (EI) coordination process and five Working groups: (1) Centre-of-Government Institutions; 2) Better Regulation; 3) Human Resource Management and Development; 4) E-Governance; and 5) Quality Management.

² * This designation is without prejudice to positions on status, and is in line with UNSCR 1244 and ICJ Advisory opinion on the Kosovo Declaration of independence.

Description of the Assignment

Competency frameworks are widely developed and applied in OECD countries. They have an important cross-cutting function informing recruitment and selection, professional development, performance appraisal and staff planning. Getting competency frameworks right is therefore of particular relevance. Over the last years, ReSPA has conducted several studies related to the HRM in the Western Balkans (WB) public services, and all of them have one way or another addressed the competency frameworks (The 2015 analysis on merit recruitment³, the 2019 evaluation report⁴ on merit base recruitment and the 2020 recruitment study⁵).

This shows that the competency topic has been on the agenda in the Western Balkans for years, however with a limited success as it keeps being pointed out also in more recent studies. In addition to that, the need for competency-based approach does not come up only in the recruitment related studies. The 2021 study on performance appraisals⁶ contains even a separate chapter (5. Towards competency frameworks: Differentiating “hard” from “soft” objectives) stressing that competencies are an important prerequisite for effective performance management.

Given the preliminary work done by ReSPA Members, at the meeting of the HRMD Working group held in November 2021 in Tirana, it has been suggested that an analysis on competency-based frameworks and the development of a self-assessment framework is a short-term priority for the HRMD Working Group. The findings and recommendations will also be used for (re)defining the programme directions of ReSPA beyond 2022 since ReSPA is expecting a new four-year grant.

The study should give an overview of the different competency-based management (CBM) approaches and their main components. The overview should serve as a model for analysing the WB experience. The study should also map the requirements set for civil servants at different levels in the WB administrations and analyse them through the concept of CBM to understand their level of development in the area.

The study will identify obstacles in development as well as the successful implementation of competency-based frameworks and propose strategies for overcoming those obstacles. The study will explicitly take into account the good practices from the EU as well as findings of the SIGMA assessment reports and the European principles of administration for the management of human resources as developed by SIGMA. It should be complemented by good practice examples from different EU countries that have introduced competency frameworks in the civil service that work well in practice.

The study should also serve for development of the self-assessment framework for competencies which would be used by the Western Balkan countries. The self-assessment will support the countries in assessing their state of art in using competencies in regard to various HR functions. The study should also encompass the recommendations for improvement of the use of competencies in ReSPA members and at least two examples of good practice on the use of competencies in the EU countries.
